Medical.

THE UNFORTUNATE.

REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

Horrible Diseases.

[illegible]any thousands of persons both male and fe[male] [illegible] there who are dragging out a miserable exist[ence] [illegible] the effects of secret indulgences or from virus [illegible] into the system. Look at their pallid emacia[ted] [illegible] disfigured faces and the broken down constitu[tion] [illegible] disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage [illegible] enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation they [illegible] until death closes the scene. Let parents, [illegible] friends attend to those who are suffering with [th]ese horrible life-destroying maladies — see that [they are c]ared for and cured before it be too late. Send [im]mediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has [made pri]vate disease his especial study for years and who [is able] to cure the most inveterate cases without mer[cury or] any injurious drugs. It is important to those [a]fflicted, or to those who are interested in the [welfare o]f their friends, to beware of the many pre[tenders and qua]ctors who infest all [illegible] publishing their skill [in curing] all diseases in a few days, preying upon the [public by] using the names of eminent physicians from [illegible] and other places. Be therefore careful and make [inqu]iry, or you may fall into the hands of those [illegible]

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This [illegible] or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised [by yo]uth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, [illegible] with unerring certainty, the following train [of] symptoms [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]ures, viz. Sallow countenance dark spots under [the eyes,] pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like [illegible]ng of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness [about the] loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, [dulness of i]ntellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in ap[proaching] strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, [a disposit]ion to shun society, loss of memory, hectic [flushes, p]imples and various eruptions about the face, [illegible]ague, fetid breath coughs, consumption, night [sweats, m]onomania and frequently insanity. If relief be [illegible]ed, should apply immediately either in person [or by lett]er, and have a cure effected by his new and rel[iable meth]ods of treating this disease, which never fails of [effecting] a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One [Hundred] Dollars to any person who will prove satisfacto[rily] [illegible] that he was cured of this complaint by either [illegible] [illegible] quacks

[illegible] MARRIED MEN.

[Those who c]ontemplate marriage who are suffering [from an]y of these fearful maladies, should not forget the [responsi]bility resting upon them nor delay to [seek im]mediate relief.

[D]R GIBBON is responsible and will give to each [illegible] instrument, binding himself to effect a [illegible] permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

[Persons] at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, [by address]ing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symp[toms, len]gth of time the disease has continued, and have [medicines] promptly forwarded, free from damage and [curiosity], to any part of the country, with full and plain [directions] for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered let[ter, or th]rough Wells, Fargo & Co.

[C]aution to the Unfortunate.

[Beware] of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, [illegible] bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. [illegible] the self styled doctors whose names are to be [seen in] the daily and weekly newspapers of San Fran[cisco and] other places, are tradesmen, and became too [lazy to w]ork at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoe[makers, n]ewspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, [illegible] over the San Francisco Directory, and you [will f]ind their Medical Institutes in it, but you will [find th]eir occupations in it. Look at the Direc[tories of] 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposi[tion is to] make enquiry — it will cost you nothing and [save] you many regrets; for, as advertising physi[cians, e]ight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no [safety in] trusting any of them until you know who and [what the]y are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by [illegible] bogus titles, certificates, pretended patient's [illegible] Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may [call at hi]s office of his ability to treat diseases that he [illegible] to cure.

[Address] DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, cor[ner Com]mercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

[BE SU]RE TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. [Consultati]on — FREE.

[illegible] will please inform DR. GIBBON [where they] read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

DIVIDEND, JAN'Y 1, 1868,

FORTY PER CENT. UPON ALL POLICIES THAT have been in force four years and payable on the anniversaries of the renewals of said policies.

This Company in declaring its Dividends, do so upon THE EQUITABLE SYSTEM, thus each insurer, whether he is a rich man or a poor man, a prominent citizen or an humble citizen, shares alike.

PREMIUM SYSTEM.

CASH, when required. NOTES ARE, HOWEVER, TAKEN to accommodate the Insurer in paying his Premiums, thus showing the confidence of the Company in its ability to declare Dividends that will eventually cancel the Notes.

How different this is from a Cash Company who exact all cash under the plea that it is unsafe to grant this indulgence to a policy holder, when he is unable to pay his renewal premium.

REMEMBER

That the "OLD MANHATTAN" never assumes or promises Extravagant Dividends to induce insurers to come and insure with them. Their Dividends in the past have always been equal to all well managed and first class Companies, and they can offer the records of the past as an evidence of the future. It never vilifies the character of other Companies to accumulate business. THE MANHATTAN'S oldest insurers are its best advocates. The business of the Company is conducted with ECONOMY!

This is an evidence of careful management and a promise of Large Dividends in future.

From the following table, taken from the New York Insurance Reports of 1867, it will be seen that our percentage of expenses to receipts are very much less than any Companies enumerated below.

Expenses on each $100 of Receipts

Manhattan Life	13 36

Constitutionality of the Reconstruction Acts

SPEECH OF SENATOR MORTON, OF INDIANA, DELIVERED IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES, JANUARY 21, 1868.

(Concluded.)

The President of the United States, in his proclamation, declared that these governments were to be formed only by the loyal people of those States, and I beg leave to call the attention of the Senate to that clause in his proclamation of reconstruction. He says:

> And with authority to exercise within the limits of said State all the powers necessary and proper to enable such loyal people of the State of North Carolina to restore said State to its constitutional relations with the Federal Government.

Again, speaking of the army:

> And they are enjoined to abstain from in any way hindering, impeding, or discouraging the loyal people from the organization of a State government as herein authorized.

Now, sir, so far from those State governments having been organized by the loyal people, they were organized by the disloyal, every office passed into the hands of a rebel, the Union men had no part or lot in those governments; and so far from answering the purpose for which governments are intended, they failed to extend protection to the loyal men, either white or black. The loyal men were murdered with impunity, and I will thank any Senator on this floor to point to a single case in any of the rebel States where a rebel has been tried and brought to punishment by civil authority for the murder of a Union man. Not one case, I am told, can be found. Those governments utterly failed in answering the purpose of civil governments, and not only that, but they returned the colored people to a condition of quasi slavery, they made them the slaves of society instead of being as they were before the slaves of individuals. Under various forms of vagrant laws they deprived them of the rights of freemen, and placed them under the power and control of their rebel masters, who were filled with hatred and revenge.

But Mr. President, time passed on. Congress assembled in December, 1865. For a time it paused. It did not at once annul those governments. It hesitated. At last, in 1866, the constitutional amendment, the fourteenth article, was brought forward as a basis of settlement and reconstruction, and there was a tacit understanding, though it was not embraced in any law or resolution, that if the Southern people would ratify and agree to that amendment, then their State governments would be accepted. But that amendment was rejected, contemptuously rejected. The Southern people, counseled and inspired by the Democracy of the North, rejected that amendment. They were told that they were not bound to submit to any conditions whatever, that they had forfeited no rights by rebellion. Why, sir, what did we propose by this amendment? By the first section we declared that all men born upon our soil were citizens of the United States—a thing that had long been recognized by every department of this government until the Dred Scott decision was made in 1857. The second section provided that where a class or race of men were excluded from the right of suffrage they should not be counted in the basis of representation—an obvious justice that no reasonable man for a moment could deny, that if four million people down South were to have no suffrage, the men living in their midst and surrounding them, and depriving them of all political rights, should not have members of Congress on their account. I say the justice of the second clause has never been successfully impugned by any argument, I care not how ingenious it may be. What was the third clause? It was that the leaders of the South, those men who had once taken an official oath to suppport the Constitution of the United States, and had afterward committed perjury by going into the rebellion, should be made ineligible to any office under the Government of the United States or of a State. It was a very small disfranchisement. It was intended to withhold power from those leaders by whose instrumentality we had lost nearly half a million lives and untold treasure. The justice of that disfranchisement could not be disproved. And what was the fourth clause of the amendment? That this Government should never assume and pay any part of the rebel debt; that it should never pay the rebels for their slaves. This was bitterly opposed in the North as well as the South. How could any man oppose that amendment unless he was in favor of this Government assuming a portion or all of the rebel debt, and in favor of paying the rebels for their slaves? When the Democratic party North and South opposed this most important, and, perhaps, hereafter to be regarded as vital amendment, they were committing themselves in principle, as they had been before by declaration, to the doctrine that this Government was bound to pay for the slaves, and that it was just and right that we should assume and pay the rebel debt.

This amendment, as I have before said, was rejected, and when Congress assembled in December 1866, they were confronted by the fact that every proposition of compromise had been rejected, every half way measure had been spurned by the rebels, and they had nothing left to do but to begin the work of reconstruction themselves, and in February, 1867, Congress for the first time entered upon the execution of the guaranty provided for in the Constitution by the passage of the first reconstruction law. A supplementary bill was found necessary in March, another one in July, and I believe another one is found necessary at this time, but the power is with Congress. Whatever it shall deem necessary, whether it be in the way of military power—whatever Congress shall deem necessary in the execution of this guaranty is conclusive upon the courts and upon the States.

Sir, when Congress entered upon this work it had become apparent to all men that loyal republican State governments could not be erected and maintained upon the basis of the white population. We had tried them. Congress had attempted the work of reconstruction through the constitutional amendment by leaving the suffrage with the white men, and by leaving with the white people of the South the question as to when the colored people should exercise the right of suffrage, if ever; but when it was found that those white men were as rebellious as ever, that they hated this Government more bitterly than ever, when it was found that Northern men who had gone down there were driven out by social tyranny, by a thousand annoyances by the insecurity of life and property then it became apparent to all men of intelligence that reconstruction could not take place upon the basis of the white population, and some thing else must be done.

Now, sir, what was there left to do? Either we must hold these people continually by military power, or we must use such machinery upon such a new basis as would enable loyal republican State Governments to be raised up, and in the last resort, and I will say Congress waited long, the nation waited long, experience had to come to the rescue of reason before the thing was done—in the last resort, and as the last thing to be done Congress determined to dig through all the rubbish—dig through the soil and the shifting sands and go down to the eternal rock, and there, upon the basis of the everlasting principle of equal and exact justice to all men, we have planted the column of reconstruction, and, sir, it will arise slowly but surely, and "the gates of hell shall not prevail against it." Whatever dangers we apprehend from the introduction to the right of suffrage of seven hundred thousand men just emerged from slavery, were put aside in the presence of a greater danger. Why, sir, let me say frankly to my friend from Wisconsin that I approached universal colored suffrage in the South reluctantly. Not because I adhered to the miserable dogma that this was the white man's government, but because I entertained fears about at once entrusting a large body of men just from slavery, to whom education had been denied by law, to whom the marriage relation had been denied, who had been made the most abject slaves, with political power. And as the Senator has referred to a speech which I made in Indiana in 1865, allow me to show the principle that then actuated me, for in that speech I said:

> In regard to the question of admitting the freedmen of the Southern States to vote, while I admit the equal [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Such was my feeling at that time, for it had not then been determined by the bloody experience of the last two years that we could not reconstruct upon the basis of the white population, and such was the opinion of the great majority of the people of the North; and it was not until a year and a half after that time that Congress came to the conclusion that there was no way left but to resort to colored suffrage and suffrage to all men except those who were disqualified by the commission of high crimes and misdemeanors.

Mr. President, we hear much said in the course of this debate, and through the press, about the violation of the Constitution. It is said that in the reconstruction measures of Congress we have gone outside of the Constitution, and the remark of some distinguished statesman of the Republican party is quoted to that effect. Sir, if any leading Republican has ever said so he spoke only for himself, not for another. I deny the statement in toto. I insist that these reconstruction measures are as fully within the powers of the constitution as any legislation that can be had, not only by reason, but by authority. And who are the men that are talking so much about the violation of the Constitution, and who pretend to be the especial friends of that instrument? The great mass of them, only three years ago, were in arms to overturn the Constitution and establish that of Montgomery in its place, or were their Northern friends, who were aiding and sympathising in that undertaking.

I had occasion the other day to speak of what was described as a Constitutional Union man—a man living inside the Federal lines during the war, sympathizing with the rebellion, and who endeavored to aid the rebellion by insisting that every war measure for the purpose of suppressing it was a violation of the Constitution. Now these men who claim to be the especial friends of the Constitution are the men who have sought to destroy it by force of arms, and those throughout the country who have given them aid and comfort. Sir, you will remember that once a celebrated French woman was being dragged to the scaffold, and as she passed the statue of liberty she exclaimed "How many crimes have been committed in thy name," and I can say to the Constitution, how many crimes against liberty, humanity, and progress are being committed in thy name by those men who, while they loved not the Constitution and sought its destruction, now, for party purposes, claim to be its especial friends.

My friend from Wisconsin yesterday compared what he called the Radical party of the North to the radicals of the South, and when he was asked the question by some Senator, "who are the radicals of the South," he said, "they are the secessionists." Sir, the secessionists of the South are Democrats to-day, acting in harmony and concert with the Democratic party. They were Democrats during the war who prayed for the success of McClellan and Pendleton, and would have been glad to have voted for them; and they were Democrats before the war, and the men who made the rebellion. Those are the radicals of the South, and my friend from Wisconsin, after all, is voting with the radicals.

The burden of his speech yesterday was that the reconstruction measures of Congress are intended to establish negro supremacy. Sir, this proposition is without any foundation whatever. I believe it was stated yesterday by the Senator from Illinois (Mr. Trumbull) that in every State but two the white voters registered out-numbered the colored voters, and the fact that in two States the colored voters out numbered the white voters is owing to the simple accident that there are more colored men in those States than there are white men. Congress has not sought to establish negro supremacy, nor has it sought to establish the supremacy of any class or or party of men. If it had sought to establish negro supremacy it would have been an easy matter by excluding from the right of suffrage all men who had been concerned in the rebellion, in accordance with the proposition of the distinguished Senator from Massachusetts, (Mr. Sumner,) in his speech at Worcester, in 1865. He proposed to exclude all men who had been concerned in the rebellion and confer suffrage only on those who were left. That would have established negro supremacy by giving the negroes an overwhelming majority in every State, and if that had been the object of Congress it could have been readily done. But, sir, Congress has only sought to divide the political power between the loyal and the disloyal. It has disfranchised some fifty thousand disloyal leaders, leaving all the rest of the people to vote. They have been enfranchised on both sides, that neither should be placed in the power of the other. The rebels have the right to vote so that they shall not be under the control and power of the Union men only, and the Union men have been allowed to vote so that they shall not be under the control and power of the rebels. This is the policy, to divide the political power among those men for the protection of each. Sir, the charge that we intend to create a negro supremacy or colored State governments is without the slightest foundation, for it would have been in the power of Congress to have easily conferred such supremacy by simply excluding the disloyal from the right of suffrage—a power which it had the clear right to exercise.

Now, Mr. President, allow me to consider for a moment the amendment offered by the Senator from Wisconsin, and upon which his speech was made, and see what is its effect—I will not say its purpose, but its inevitable effect—should it become a law. I will ask the Secretary to read the amendment which the Senator from Wisconsin has proposed to the Senate.

The Secretary read as follows:

> Provided, nevertheless, That upon an election for the ratification of any constitution, or of officers under the same previous to its adoption in any State, no person not having the qualification of an elector under the constitution and laws of such State previous to the late rebellion, shall be allowed to vote, unless he shall possess one of the following qualifications, namely:
>
> 1. He shall have served as a soldier in the Federal army for one year or more.
>
> 2. He shall have sufficient education to read the Constitution of the United States and to subscribe his name to an oath to support the same; or,
> 3. He shall be seized in his own right, or in the right of his wife, of a freehold of the value of $250.

Mr. Morton. Sir, these qualifications are, by the terms of the amendment, to apply to those who were not authorized to vote by the laws of the State before the rebellion—in other words, the colored men. He proposes to allow a colored man to vote if he has been in the Federal army one year, and he proposes to allow a rebel white man to vote, although he has served in the rebel army four years! He proposes that a colored man shall not vote unless he has sufficient education to read the Constitution of the United States and to subscribe his name to an oath to support the same, whereas he permits a rebel white man to vote who never heard of A, and does not know how to make his mark even to a note given for whisky. [Laughter.]

Again, sir, he proposes that the colored man shall not vote unless he shall be seized in his own right or in the right of his wife of a freehold of the value of $250, a provision which, of course, would cut off nine hundred and ninety-nine out of every thousand colored men in the South. The colored man cannot vote unless he has a freehold of $250, but the white rebel who was never worth twenty five cents, who never paid poll-tax in his life, never paid an honest debt, is to be allowed to vote. Sir, what would be the inevitable effect of the adoption of this amendment? To cut off such a large part of the colored vote as to leave the rebel white vote largely in the ascendancy and to put these new State governments there to be formed again into the hands of the rebels. Sir, I will not spend longer time upon that.

My friend yesterday alluded to my endorsement of the President's policy in a speech in 1865. I never endorsed what is now called the President's policy. In the summer of 1865, when I saw a division coming between the President and the Republican party, and when I could not help anticipating the direful consequences that must result from it, I made a speech in which I repelled certain statements that had been made against the President, and denied the charge that by issuing his proclamation of May 29, 1865, he had thereby left the Republican party. I said that he had not left the Republican party by that act. I did show that the policy of that proclamation was even more radical than that of Mr. Lincoln. I did show that it was more radical even than Winter Davis' bill of the summer of 1864. But, sir, it was all upon the distinct understanding that whatever the President did that his whole policy or action was to be submitted to Congress for its consideration and decision, and, as I before remarked, if that had been done all would have been well. I did not then advocate universal colored suffrage in the South, and I have before given my reasons [illegible] that I was acting in harmony with the great body of the Republican party of the North. It was nearly a year after that time, when Congress passed the Constitutional amendment, which still left the question of suffrage with the Southern States, left it with the white people, and it was not till a year and a half after that time that Congress came to the conclusion that we could not execute the guaranty of the Constitution without raising up a new class of loyal voters.

And, sir, nobody concurred in that [illegible] heartily than myself. I confess (and I do it without shame) that I have been educated by the great events of the war. The American people have been educated rapidly; and the man who says he has learned nothing, that he stands now where he did six years ago, is like an [illegible] mile post by the side of a deserted highway. We, Mr. President, have advanced step by step. When this war began we did not contemplate the destruction of slavery. I remember well when the Crittenden resolution was passed, declaring that the war was not prosecuted for conquest or to overturn the institutions of any State. I [kno]w that that was intended as an assurance that slavery should not be destroyed, and it received the vote, I believe, of every Republican member in both houses of Congress; but in a few months after that time it was found by the events of the war that we could not preserve slavery and suppress the rebellion, and we must destroy slavery—not prosecute the war to destroy slavery, but destroy slavery to prosecute the war. Which was the better? To stand by the resolution and let the Union go, or stand by the Union and let the resolution go? Congress could not stand by that pledge, and it was "more honored in the breach than the observance." Mr. Lincoln [issued] his proclamation of emancipation, setting free the slaves of the rebels. It was dictated by the stern and bloody experience of the times. Mr. Lincoln had no choice left him. When we began this war no one thought we would use colored [soldiers] in the war. The distinguished Senator sitting by me here (Mr. Cameron), when in the winter of 1861 he first brought forward the proposition, as Secretary of War, to use colored soldiers, was greatly in advance of public opinion, and was thought to be visionary; but as the war progressed it became manifest to all intelligent men that we must not only destroy slavery, but we must avail ourselves of every instrumentality in our power for the purpose of putting down the rebellion, and the whole country accorded in the use of colored soldiers, and gallant and glorious service they rendered. In 1864, a proposition was brought forward in this body to amend the Constitution of the United States by abolishing slavery. We don't not think that this is very radical now, but it was very radical then; it was the great measure of the age, and almost of modern times, and it was finally passed, an amendment setting free every human being within the limits of the United States. But, sir, we were very far then from where we are now. All will remember the celebrated Winter Davis bill, passed in June, 1864, which took the power of reconstruction out of the hands of the President, where it did not in fact belong.

I refer to Mr. Lincoln; but if that bill had passed it would perhaps have resulted in the destruction of this Government. We can all see it now, although it was then thought to be the [illegible] radical measure of the times. What did it propose? It proposed to prescribe a plan, to take effect when the war should end, by which the rebel States should be restored. I refer to that bill simply to show how we have all travelled. It required but one condition of guaranty on the part of the South, and that was that they should put in their constitutions a provision abolishing slavery. It required no other guaranty. It required no equalization of representation; no security against rebel debts, or against payment for emancipated slaves. But it was thought to be a great step in advance at the time; and so it was; but events were passing rapidly, and in 1865 the President came forward with his proposition, and I am stating what is true for an examination of the documents when I say that, but for [illegible] of power with the President, his [illegible] considered was far more radical than that of the Winter Davis bill; but events were rapidly teaching the statesmen of the time that we could not reconstruct upon that basis.

Still, Congress was not prepared to take a forward step until the summer of 1866, in the passage of the constitutional amendment. That was rejected, and we have now fallen upon the plan of reconstruction which I have been considering. It has been defeated by the logic of events. It overrides all arguments, overrides all prejudices, overrides all theory, in the presence of the necessity for preserving the life of this nation; and if future events shall determine that we must go further, I for one am prepared to say that I will go as far as shall be necessary to the execution of this guaranty, the reconstruction of this Republic upon a right basis, and the successful restoration of every part of this Union.

Mr. President, the column of reconstruction, as I before remarked, has risen slowly. It has not been hewn from a single stone. It is composed of many blocks, painfully laid up and put together, and cemented by the tears and blood of the nation. Sir, we have done nothing arbitrarily. We have done nothing for punishment—aye, too little for punishment. Justice has not had her demand. Not a man has yet been executed for this great treason. The arch fiend himself is now at liberty upon bail. No man is to be punished; and now, while punishment has gone by, as we all know, we are insisting only upon security for the future. We are simply asking that the evil spirits who brought this war upon us shall not again come into power during this generation, again to bring upon us rebellion and calamity. We are simply asking for those securities that we deem necessary for our peace and the peace of our posterity.

Sir, there is one great difference between this Union party and the so-called Democratic party. Our principles are those of humanity; they are those of justice, they are those of equal rights; they are principles that appeal to the hearts and consciences of men, while on the other side we hear appeals to the prejudice of race against race. The white man is overwhelmingly in the majority in this country, and that majority is yearly increased by half a million of white men from abroad, and that majority gaining in proportion from year to year until the colored man will finally be but a handful in this country, and yet we hear the prejudices of the white races appealed to to crush this other race, and to prevent it from rising to supremacy and power. Sir, there is nothing noble, there is nothing generous, there is nothing lovely in that policy or that appeal. How does that principle compare with ours? We are standing upon the broad platform of the Declaration of Independence, that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." We say that these rights are not given by laws; are not given by the Constitution, but they are the gift of God to every man born in the world. Oh, sir, how glorious is this great principle compared with the inhuman—I might say the heathenish—appeal to the prejudice of race against race, the endeavor further to excite the strong against the weak, the endeavor further to deprive the weak of their rights of protection against the strong.

Chief Justice Chase as a Democratic Candidate for President

Chief Justice Chase has lately been proposed at the East as a Democratic candidate for the Presidency! Since impeachment began, the organs of that party have been praising him because they have imagined him to be opposed to the proceeding,—a supposition which has nothing stable to rest upon. Some of these new found friends of the Chief Justice have bethought them that his political antecedents are all in his favor as a Democratic candidate. That he was always a Democrat, and only separated from that party on the slavery question, and on that he won and they lost, which shows that he was right and they were wrong. Therefore even this fact may be remembered to his credit by the "regenerated Democracy." All the Democratic journals of the East are now speaking of the Chief Justice with the highest respect, though it is impossible to see what he has done that he should be damaged by their praise. The Cincinnati Commercial says that the sagacious men of the Democratic party perceive that their defeat is certain unless they cut loose from old issues and their old record, and this inclines them to look to Chase. They also say that as a section of their party want a greenback candidate, it would not be a bad thing to take old "Greenbacks" himself. The New York Sun of the 17th March contains an article on this subject, of which we give a paragraph:

> It is only about seventy hours since the name of Chief Justice Chase was first formally proposed as the Democratic candidate for President, and only twenty-four hours since the Sun made the proposition to him generally known. Judging from the progress which the movement has already made, this is going to prove the most successful political hit of the times. If it increases in the same ratio until next November, the Democratic friends of Mr. Chase may well hope that he will outstrip and distance all his competitors in the Presidential race.

On the 18th the Sun said:

> The suggestion that Chief Justice Chase is likely to be the Democratic candidate for the Presidency is producing a profound impression upon the masses of the party. The vigorous and progressive elements of the organization, eager for a chance of success in the coming contest, know that a victory can be won only by a new and attractive order, representing original and popular [illegible]. The young and courageous section of the Democracy are weary of the defunct issues and obsolete hacks of a by-gone era. They avert their faces from the dead past, which only remind them of defeat and humiliation, and turn with longing eyes to a statesman of commanding talents, advanced ideas and independent position of Salmon P. Chase, who can inspire their enthusiasm, fill up their thinned ranks and carry them forward to victory. With him for their standard bearer, they would go into the conflict with ardent aspirations; and even if beaten they would be consoled by the consciousness that though they had not achieved success, they had deserved it by fighting a great battle in support of great principles under a gallant leader.

We give this as a part of the political talk of the times. Strange combinations appear in politics in peculiar times like these, and the history of the past twenty years shows us that there is no telling what may happen.

Henry Clay and the "Time Honored Principles."

We understand that Smith continues in his speeches to make pretended quotations from Henry Clay in justification of the rebels and the principles of the Democratic party. The following extracts from some remarks made by Henry Clay in the Senate in 1850 in reply to sundry direct questions propounded to him by Jeff. Davis, will show how little reason any "Democrat" has to quote the great Kentuckian in support of the "time honored principles:"

> Mr. President, I have heard with pain and regret a confirmation of the remark I made, that the sentiment of disunion has become familiar. I hope it is confined to South Carolina. I do not regard as my duty what the Senator (Davis) seems to regard as his. If Kentucky to-morrow unfurls the banner of resistance, I will never fight under that banner. I owe a paramount allegiance to the whole Union,—a subordinate one to my own State.

[illegible] thing for those "Democrats" who quote Henry Clay, and attempt to justify the Southern rebels because they only "obeyed their States." Again, in 1849, Clay wrote to Combs, of Kentucky, stating that the Southern politicians were bent on destroying the Union, and that Kentucky ought to assist in counteracting their schemes. He said:

> The feeling for disunion among the Southern politicians is stronger than I ever supposed it could be. The masses at the South, are, I believe, yet sound; but they may become inflamed and perverted. The disunionists count on the co-operation of Kentucky. Cannot you get up large, powerful meetings at Louisville, Lexington, etc., to express in strong language their determination to stand by the Union?

In 1861, Gov. Whiteaker, of Oregon, denounced the holding of meetings in this State for the purpose of expressing the determination of the people to stand by the Union, and Rev. Joseph Smith and the whole Democratic party took sides with their Governor. It is not a happy idea on the part of his reverence to quote Henry Clay in justification of the course of its party.

"DEMOCRACY" IN THE SOUTH.—The Tennessee papers are filled with accounts of outrages upon Union men, whites and blacks, by the "Kuklux" Democracy of that region. Whipping, robbing and killing are common, and colored women are ravished by the chivalric haters of "negro equality." The telegraphic dispatches state that the Democracy of Louisiana are also engaged in the pastime of assassinating their political opponents. Will candid men look at these facts? The Copperhead prints of the North teem with imaginary stories of the wrongs inflicted on the ex rebels of the South by the "Radicals," but where has there been an instance of proscription, outrage or assassination to support the stories they tell? If the life of a rebel Democrat should be taken by a negro, there would be no end to the indignant talk about it; but since the close of the war, hundreds, and it is believed thousands of blacks, have been assassinated without provocation by the rebels, and the Copperhead press have not had a word of protest. White men have also in many instances been made the victims of rebel fury, and the outrages still continue. Yet we must be told that these rebel murderers are "oppressed," and must listen while the air is loaded with appeals to save them from "Radical tyranny!"

It ought not to be forgotten that the adoption of universal negro suffrage in the District of Columbia and throughout the South is due directly to the Democratic representatives in the last Congress. A large majority of the Union members decided in caucus against it, and when it was proposed in Congress to establish intelligence as a qualification for negro suffrage, the Democrats voted with the extreme men on the Republican side, and thus secured its defeat.

Andrew Johnson is the first President from whom two brave soldiers—George H. Thomas and W. T. Sherman—refused to receive proffered honors.

The Distinction Between the Parties.

Swift somewhere says that political parties were once formed upon the question whether eggs should be eaten at the big end or at the little end. If men are wise, they will in the present condition of our political affairs, postpone this and kindred questions for a time, and consider and settle the momentous issues actually before the country. The great question is thus stated in Senator Morton's speech, to which the attention of our readers is particularly directed: "The issue is between two paramount ideas, each struggling for the supremacy. One is that the war to suppress the rebellion was a right and just one on our part; that the rebels forfeited their civil and political rights and can only be restored to them upon such conditions as the nation may prescribe for its future safety and prosperity. The other idea is that the rebellion was not sinful, but was right; that those engaged in it forfeited no rights civil or political, and have a right to take charge of their State governments just as if there had been no rebellion and nothing had occurred." This forcible statement of the principal issue before the country shows that the present is no time for any man to form his political opinions, or to regulate his political actions, with reference to any minor question. The egg controversy or similar questions which the punctilious may desire to raise, can be allowed to wait, and may be settled at another time.

Though old questions once at issue between the political parties now in existence have been successively dismissed, the vitalizing ideas and tendencies of the two parties remain essentially the same. These primary ideas and tendencies remain permanently, and the parties are to be judged by them rather than by the particular measures they may from time to time espouse. The Union or Republican party is devoted to the doctrines of the Declaration of Independence, and adheres to the idea that the United States are a nation, while the misnamed Democratic party, following its inherent tendencies, resists the doctrine that all men should be equal before the law, and becomes the defender of those who would have destroyed our nationality. As it liked slavery and would have gladly made it permanent and national, so it now protests against giving any rights whatever to the emancipated race. As it has always advocated the dogma of State supremacy and held that the United States are not a nation, so it is now the champion of those who assaulted the national doctrine and attempted to subvert the nationality of the United States. In all this the 'Democratic' party is true to its tendencies, and herein may be seen the danger which would menace the country if that party were allowed to triumph.

This inherent distinction between the parties being understood, it is only necessary for the people to consider which party may be most safely trusted with the administration of the country. As for the great question immediately in issue between the parties at this time, there can be no such thing as mistaking it; and we commend to all who desire to see it set forth in the clearest manner, to the able speech of Senator Morton which is published in this paper.

The statement in the OREGONIAN, of yesterday morning, that the New York World, or any other Democratic paper, ever declared that the negroes were "a better class of citizens than the Irish," is simply false, and the editor knows it, as everybody else does. This assertion has been made times without number, by the Radical papers all over the country, but by a Democratic paper never, and the OREGONIAN cannot produce a single instance to show it.—Herald.

The Herald imagines that flat denial is absolute proof. All intelligent readers of newspapers know that about a year ago all the leading Democratic papers in the country came out for negro suffrage. The remarks of the New York World were widely quoted, and its six column article in regard to the blacks was the object of special remark. In that article statistics were given to show that the negroes of New York city were a more quiet, orderly people, and that fewer arrests were made among them in proportion to their numbers, than any other class, and this is what led that paper to remark that in a police point of view the negroes were a better class of citizens than the Irish. The Herald asserts that it has been said "by Radical papers all over the country" that the negroes were better than the Irish, but it cannot "produce a single instance to show it." If such a remark had been made "times without number," it surely would have been easy to present some proof of the fact.

An imperial ukase was promulgated from St Petersburg on the 23d of March, which removes the few remaining distinctions between Poland and other provinces of the Empire. It obliterates all traces of Polish nationality in the political government at Warsaw, and completes the absorption of Poland into Russia as an integral portion of the empire.

Public Opinion on the Impeachment of Andrew Johnson.

[From the Baltimore Post, March 16.]

Forty days, in which to prepare an answer to the impeachment charges, was asked for by the President. As General Butler aptly remarked, no man after this can say that the accusations are puerile and frivolous. The most eminent counsel in the land admit that their gravity and importance is such that an answer could not be prepared in less than forty days. This disposes of that charge.

[From the Dayton (Ohio) Journal, March 16.]

We have yet to find a solitary Republican who does not approve the impeachment of Johnson, and the Democratic leaders do not scruple to say that if Johnson had been elected by their party he would have been impeached and expelled long ago. We have good authority for saying that such is the opinion of a distinguished Democratic leader who is said not to be as skillful in the management of the cork-screw as one of his rivals.

[From the Omaha (Nebraska) Republican, March 18.]

The high court of impeachment commences the trial of Mr. Johnson to day. The head of a great nation has to answer to a people whose national policy he has attempted to thwart and whose laws he has openly defied. The occasion is one of the most solemn and remarkable character. The people are exercising their highest right of sovereignty on the highest official of the land.

[From the Dubuque Times, March 12.]

The unexampled frauds in the collection of the whisky tax, which have corrupted and demoralized more men than a thousand old United States banks, and conducted by a more daring financier than Mr. Biddle, will be checked the moment Andrew Johnson is impeached. The conflict between the President, Secretary McCulloch, and Commissioner Rollins, has practically defeated the honest operations of the internal revenue law, by making it a gigantic instrument in the hands of reckless Copperhead politicians.

[From the Pittsburg (Pa.) Commercial, March 16.]

Three years ago the boast of Andrew Johnson was that he would have Jefferson Davis promptly tried and punished. To day we see him arraigned before the Court of Impeachment, and in order to satisfy the demands of justice it has been necessary to postpone the trial of Davis a month. If Mr. Johnson thinks at all on the past, this fact must pierce him to the quick.

At the next leap year, in 1872, there will be five Tuesdays in February, in 1876, five Thursdays, in 1880, five Sundays, and so on a retrogression of two days in the week for every leap year for seven returns, until Saturday returns again in 1896, when there will be five Saturdays.

There are now published in the city of New York fourteen morning papers—of which two are French, two German and one a legal organ, and seven evening papers, of which one is German, making a total of twenty-one daily journals.

Of all the silly and "sappy" phases of flashy and inflated journalism, that of "answers to correspondents" (which are entirely—both questions and answers—written in the office) is the weakest. Josh Billings "replies" to a "correspondent" as follows: "Your idea that frogs grow more bob-tailed as they grow older is too cussed good to be lost."

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO APRIL 21.

Congressional

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Senate after a brief executive session adjourned at 2 o'clock.

In the House, upon returning from the Senate chamber, Schofield offered a resolution which was adopted directing the Committee on Foreign Affairs to inquire into the propriety of providing by law that no claim of British subjects for the proceeds of captured and abandoned property shall be allowed by the Court of Claims or by any Executive Department, until the claims of the citizens of the United States for property destroyed by the rebel cruisers fitted out in British ports are allowed.

[illegible] offered a resolution which was adopted [illegible] Congress to regulate the manner of building [illegible] and heating cars.

On the motion of Washburne the House took up the bill providing for the expenses of the impeachment trial. A spicy debate ensued between Eldridge of Wisconsin and E. B. Washburne. The former declared the amount asked for was not sufficient and was a mere dodge to make the country believe the trial would not cost a large sum.

Washburne said he was willing not only to vote this amount but ten times the amount if the impeachment was a success. It will be worth a hundred million dollars to the country if successful. The galleries applauded. There were [illegible] and it required [illegible]. The bill then passed without division.

A number of resolutions were introduced for reference and the House resumed the consideration of the bill [illegible] American citizens abroad, which was reported from the Committee on Foreign Affairs. The bill under discussion is known as Banks' bill relating to the rights of naturalized citizens, and it finally passed—93 to 5.

Impeachment

WASHINGTON, April 20.—In the Senate court opened at 11 o'clock A. M. The managers were present. In response to an inquiry from the Chief Justice Curtis stated that the counsel for the President considered their evidence closed.

Bingham said the managers might desire to place on the stand one or two witnesses who had been subpœnaed early in the trial, but had not appeared hitherto.

Butler offered in evidence portions of the journals of Congress relating to the drafting of the commission for Washington as General in Chief and also [illegible] also a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury relating to the practice of that department in making ad interim appointments.

Postmaster General Randall was recalled and produced a copy of the indictment of Foster Blodgett.

Butler offered Blodgett's answer to the notice of his removal.

Evarts objected, saying Blodgett was not on trial. The managers offered to show that the indictment was procured by desperate enemies of Blodgett. Evarts maintained that it was irrelevant, but if they wished to put Blodgett on the stand he was prepared to prove that the charges were true.

The Senate without division refused the evidence.

Butler offered the order placing Gen. Sherman in command of the Department of the Atlantic.

Evarts objected, as it was not in rebuttal of any evidence which had been introduced. The Senate by vote of 14 to 35 refused to receive it.

Butler then announced the case for the Managers closed, and the Court adjourned till Wednesday.

The Senate then went into executive session.

Louisiana Matters

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Gen. Buchanan commanding the Fifth Military Division of Louisiana, has issued an order forbidding all agents of the Freedmen's Bureau from taking any active part in politics on the pain of summary dismissal.

Reconstruction Advancing.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Dispatches from the South show that the election is progressing quietly in Louisiana, Georgia and South Carolina. The constitutions have doubtless been successful in all the three States.

New York Matters

ALBANY, April 20.—The trial of Gen. Cole for the murder of Hiscock will commence to-morrow.

The great Erie war is practically ended. A compromise has been effected between Drew and Vanderbilt comprehensive in terms and calculated to make the two railroad autocrats faster friends than ever. Some members of the House were furious at seeing their prospects for plunder broken up and immediately took up and passed the bill legalizing the issue of ten millions of Erie stock providing for the completion of the broad guage to Chicago and prohibiting the directors of the Central from acting as directors of the Erie. Great preparations had been made for the Erie fight. Members are highly disappointed at the amicable arrangement and denounce Vanderbilt for cowardice, and they will pass bills inimical to his interest. Erie stock rose 4 per cent.

Miscellaneous

WORCESTER, Mass., April 20.—A German meeting at Clinton was assaulted by an Irish mob. Knives and clubs were freely used. One Irishman was killed and several wounded.

NEW HAVEN, April 20.—Chauncey Jerome, ex Mayor, died to-day.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Senate yesterday rejected the nomination of M. P. Farley as Surveyor of California.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, April 20.—The trial of the Fenian prisoners Desmond, English, O'Keefe, Barrett, Olin and Justice, accused of causing the Clerkenwell explosion, was commenced to-day before Chief Justice Cockburn and Justice Bramwell. The prosecution is conducted by the Attorney and Solicitor General and Gifford. The counsel for the prisoners are Sleigh and Straight for Desmond, Baugh for English, Green for Barrett, and Williams for O'Keefe, Olin and Justice. All will be tried together. The jury was [illegible]. On proceeding to the Court room the approaches were crowded, and many policemen were present. The trial of Burke, a fellow prisoner, will probably commence on Friday.

LONDON, April 20.—Dispatches from Abyssinia to April 2d, report that the contemplated movement on Magdala has been made by a British storming party. The result of the movement is unknown, owing to a break in the telegraph.

Parliament reassembled yesterday. Proceedings unimportant.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21.—Marquis Levy and A. Hay, insolvents, have been discharged from their debts.

N. L. Bahn sues R. B. Gray, manufacturer of jewelry, for five thousand dollars damages for infringement on plaintiff's patent buckles.

Sam Brannan's condition is unchanged. He will probably recover.

The San Francisco Lying-in Hospital and Foundling Hospital was incorporated to day. Trustees—Gov. Haight, R. B. Swain and several other prominent citizens.

Three attempts at highway robbery have been made in the streets of San Francisco during the past week.

The Vallejo Elevator Company is incorporated with a capital of $500,000, to receive storage and deliver grain of all kinds at Vallejo, and to erect a grain elevator and warehouse at the terminus of the California Pacific Railroad wharf. Trustees—Friedlander, Rice, Frisbie, Rider and Haskins.

A large number of passengers have been booked for the steamer Constitution for New York.

Money Markets

Legal tenders 71¼@72¾. New York gold quotations opened at 138⅞, advanced to 139¼, and closed at 1[illegible].

New York and Liverpool flour and grain quotations same as yesterday.

Markets

Flour—The Panama steamer to-morrow will carry a considerable quantity in transit to New York, principally Oregon brands, shipped on owners' account. City brands unchanged.

Wheat—There are no transactions to report. Fair to good shipping is still quoted at $2 40@2 45, choice milling, $2 50.

Barley—Choice feed from the wharf, $1 92½, choice brewing from store, $2 05—an extreme figure. The market is extremely mixed, the apparent range being $1 85 and $2 05.

Oats—The two principal holders are asking $2 50@2 70, others quote at $2 65, an outside figure, at which they seem willing to sell small lots of choice, sales of 200 sks inferior at $2 40.

Shipping

Sailed—April 20th, bark Delaware, Portland. April 21st, steamer Orizaba, San Pedro; barkentine June A. Falkenburg, Portland.

[illegible] OF THANKS.—At the request of Mr. S. A. [illegible], [illegible] of the Oregon Central Rail road Co., [illegible] the following resolution of thanks, [illegible] at a late meeting of the Board of Directors:

Resolved, That the Oregon Central Railroad Company fully appreciate the interest taken in their enterprise by the public at large, as manifested at the ceremony of [illegible] ground, April 16th 1868. We consider this an earnest of the success that attends the undertaking, and the Secretary is instructed through the daily press of the city of Portland, to return our thanks to the efficient [illegible] and aids to the Chief and Assistant Engineers and the fire departments of the cities of Vancouver and P[illegible], also to the Emmet and Washington Guards and all others who assisted on that occasion as well as to the P. T. Company, Capt. Turnbull and the Ferry Co., [illegible] for the reduction of fares, that enabled so many from abroad to visit the city and attend the celebration.

MATTERS UP THE COLUMBIA.—We clip the following items of news from the Umatilla Press of the 18th: A party of twenty men from Grant county in passing over the mountains to the North Fork of John Day's river, struck some very rich placer diggings on what is known as Deep Creek. The parties were provided with mining and blacksmithing tools, provisions, etc. and according [illegible] struck camp and set to work, and are all busily engaged at present in taking out big pay. There is said to be plenty of the same kind of ground, and we expect to hear of a rush in that direction. The steamers of the O. S. N. Co. have deposited on our levee over three hundred tons of freight since our last issue. On last Monday Old Boreas attacked us with unusual fury at about 3 [illegible] in the afternoon the wind rose to a perfect tornado, [illegible] fences, turning over several outhouses—[illegible] everything before it, and lashing the waters of the river into a perfect cloud of foam. About sundown the wind abated and was followed by a cold rain.

THE STEAMSHIP GEO. S. WRIGHT.—This steamship, which arrived here Monday night, is a very handsome side-propeller, somewhat less in tonnage than the Active, but much larger than the Fideliter. Since last here she has been rebuilt and now rigged. She was originally [illegible], but has since received high bulwarks and [illegible] story for cabins and officers rooms, and now [illegible] as good passenger accommodations as any of the [illegible]. She is owned by Messrs. Kamm, of P[illegible], and Tarbell of Victoria, and if the merchants of [illegible] cities give her sufficient patronage, she will ply [illegible] on this trade.

[illegible] HANDS.—Last evening, says the Record of [illegible], a four-horse wagon, loaded with Chinamen passed through town, bound towards Portland—probably [illegible] on the Oregon Central [east side], as we understand a contract has been made for one thousand Chinese laborers, and word was sent up the valley and to Southern Oregon for all Chinamen not well employed to come down and go to work. The contractors pay $30 per [illegible], and the Chinamen board themselves. They offer white men the same wages and board in addition.

[illegible] ON A STUMPING TOUR.—Judge Smith left on the [illegible] last evening for Oregon City, whence he will go to-day to Polk county for the purpose of stumping that county, at the request of Mr. Sullivan and other leading Union men, in behalf of the Union State and county [illegible]. He will also speak at Salem, Albany, Corvallis and [illegible] City, and possibly at other places before returning.

[illegible] HIGH WATER THIS YEAR.—The Columbia river after having risen for two weeks, is now rapidly falling again and it is thought that as the snows of the mountains [illegible] unusually light this spring, there can scarcely be any [illegible] rise of the river without heavy and long continued rains—a thing that rarely occurs in the [illegible] in which the Columbia [illegible] sources.

[illegible] FOR SAN FRANCISCO.—The barkentine Occident, [illegible] master, left here yesterday morning, in tow by [illegible], with the following freights: 9,000 qr [illegible], 3,412 bags wheat, 20 tons bran, 10 cords [illegible], 170 hf bbls salmon, 9 hf bbls dried apples, 10,000 [illegible]. She will take at Springville 30 tons oats, and at [illegible] 40,000 feet of lumber.

[illegible] PRODUCTS.—Arrived yesterday per steamer [illegible], 600 qr sks flour, 50 hf bbls dried apples, 34 boxes [illegible], 11 gunnies potatoes. Per Senator, 165 boxes apples, 20 hf bbls lard, 5,616 qr sks flour and 20 boxes un[illegible]. Per Alert, 4,020 qr sacks flour, 950 sacks mid[illegible], 60 boxes apples, 0 bales woolen goods, 5 tons pig [illegible] 1 bbl whisky.

[illegible] TO UNION COUNTY CONVENTION.—The delegates [illegible] to the Union convention of this county, for next Saturday, from Multnomah precinct, are Messrs. [illegible] and Chas. Schrumm. From Sauvies Island Mr. J. B. Jewett is delegate. Messrs. B. O. Beverance [illegible] Potter are two of the three delegates from St. John's [illegible].

[illegible] PRISONERS.—Mr. D. A. Brown, arrived at this [illegible] day morning with four Snake prisoners—three [illegible] and a boy—who have been for some time in con[illegible] at Ft. Vancouver. In pursuance of orders they have been turned over to the Indian Department and Mr. Brown is en route with them to the Siletz Reservation.

[illegible] MISSIONARY.—We learn that Father Burch[illegible], a Catholic Missionary, commissioned by the order of [illegible], is expected to arrive here by the steamer now due or the next one. Upon his arrival he will give missions at this city and the Dalles. He is reputed to be a [illegible] great mind and excellent attainments.

THE ATTEMPTED SHOOTING CASE.—Goodrich, the man who was arrested on Monday for an attempt to shoot a sailor on board the Live Yankee, had an examination before the Recorder yesterday. The Recorder reserved [illegible] till this morning. Meantime, Goodrich stays [illegible].

[illegible]ANCE LIBRARY ASSOCIATION.—There will be [illegible] of the Temperance Library Association at the library room to-morrow evening. A full attendance is [illegible], as business of importance will be brought before the [illegible].

[illegible] AT OREGON CITY.—Dr. Wythe who has been in this city for several days went to Oregon City for the [illegible] of delivering the promised lecture on the subject of "Labor," before the Odd Fellow's building association, last evening.

MAY DAY BALL AT VANCOUVER.—The Washington Base Ball Club of Vancouver, has issued tickets for a May Day ball to be given at Oro Fino Hall, Vancouver, Friday evening, May 1st. We acknowledge the receipt of compli[illegible] tickets.

[illegible] TO-NIGHT.—Mr. Ed McCann will give a soiree at his Dancing Academy, this evening. A large party is [illegible], as several persons from adjoining towns are [illegible], and the occasion will doubtless be an unusually [illegible] one.

FIRST CATCH OF THE SEASON.—The first lot of salted salmon, of the spring catch of 1868, was received by the [illegible] last evening from the fishery of H. N. Nice, below this Point. They were consigned to J. O'Connor, First Street.

REMOVAL OF THE MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.—Dr. Ghiselin, [illegible] Director of the Department of the Columbia, [illegible] of orders yesterday removed his headquarters [illegible] Fort Vancouver to this city.

[illegible] — PROPRIETOR COMES TO GRIEF.—A Chinese [illegible] Jennie Jones, had an examination yesterday [illegible] the Recorder, on the charge of keeping a house [illegible] and was held to answer.

[illegible] SPEAKING AT OSWEGO.—By special invitation, [illegible] Mitchell will address the Grant Club at Oswego [illegible] Saturday evening next, at half-past seven [illegible] pending political issues.

[illegible] OF AN EDITOR.—The Record of yesterday [illegible] Mr. Clarke, having other business relations that [illegible] his undivided attention, retires from the editorial [illegible] of the Record.

[illegible] PORTLAND GRANT CLUB.—The Grant Club at East Portland will be addressed this evening by Messrs. H. [illegible] and N. Kennedy.

[illegible] SCHOOL CONCERT.—Remember the Sunday School Concert this evening in the basement room of the M. E. Church.

[illegible] We are indebted to Mr. Frank Tarbell, purser of the Geo. S. Wright, for San Francisco papers of a late date.

FOR VICTORIA.—The steamship Geo. S. Wright is advertised to sail for Victoria on or about next Thursday.

[illegible] BARK.—The bark Almy will complete her cargo and [illegible] will sail this evening, for San Francisco.

[illegible] IMPORTATIONS.—We call special attention to the [illegible] of Mr. H. Seller, importer and dealer in [illegible] ware, latest patent lamps and burners, Yankee notions, table and pocket cutlery, &c. He [illegible] on hand and is in constant receipt of pure silver [illegible] of the finest quality, and the best selection of silver and plated ware ever offered in this market. Being a direct [illegible], Mr Seller is enabled to dispose of his [illegible] at prices which defy competition.

[illegible] THAT HANMAN BROS. have connected with [illegible] a first class Merchant Tailoring Department. They have none in their employ but the best of workmen. Mr King, their Superintendent in that Department, [illegible] means to give every one that lives his means [illegible] with entire satisfaction or no go. They have on hand [illegible] stock of imported Cloths, Beavers, Doeskins [illegible] all styles of vestings. In fact all that is required in a first class Merchant Tailoring business. They have also in their store the largest stock of ready made clothing and furnishing goods in the city, and sell at prices that beats them all.

Mr. Mayo, Warden of the State Prison in New Hampshire, lost an arm in the war. A Democrat, transacting business with him, a few days since, inquired petulantly as he affixed a stamp to a document: How long are we to be compelled to use these things? The Warden quickly replied: Perhaps as long as I carry this empty sleeve, and for the same

Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President of the late Confederacy, has avowed his preference for Mr. Johnson as a Presidential candidate. He [illegible] Mr. Stephens the best half way man [illegible].

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Billious Remittent Fevers; Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water. Invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels.
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.

NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME, GENIAL and restorative in its nature, enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive, and from both sexes.

As a Genuine Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay, and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.

Last, but not least, it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

FROM SOUTHERN OREGON

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel April 18.]

On Saturday night last, a miner named Babin, a native of France, was returning from town to his cabin on Jackson creek where he met with an accident that resulted fatally. Deceased was in a state of partial intoxication and when near the forks of the creek he fell from the road to the bottom of a prospect hole some twelve or fifteen feet deep. It is probable that he was stunned by the fall as he was found lying dead with his face in the water and mud, which was only a few inches deep, and in which he had evidently been suffocated.

The miners at Sterling will commence cleaning up in a couple of weeks. They have the most flattering indications of a big clean up. In the Salt marsh claim two nuggets were picked up last week, one of which weighed a little over forty five dollars—the other nearly forty.

Last Monday week, a person borrowed a horse and saddle from John McCoy for the purpose of coming to town for a certificate as a school teacher. Neither horse or man has been seen since and the owner has gone in pursuit.

Rev J A. Hanna of Ashland has received a unanimous invitation to supply the Presbyterian Church of Eugene City. He accepts the invitation, and expects to commence ministerial labors in that place by the first of June.

The Union men of Ashland seem to be alive and at work. They have faith in the justice of their cause and seem determined to leave no stone unturned to increase their numbers.

On Sunday last Mr Eli Taylor while traveling down the South side of Applegate towards Kerbyville, was a witness of a fierce and extraordinary conflict between a grizzly and a panther. The panther appeared to be the attacking party, springing on his antagonist with desperate energy—biting, clawing, and screaming with rage. Bruin would await the attack, on his haunches—and several times hugged his adversary with such force as to compel him to resort to the use of his hind claws, which, apparently, did terrible execution and made the bear relax his tremendous grip. Mr T watched the fearful contest for over and hour, until the enraged beasts had fought in to a brushy gulch, where he thought it was imprudent to follow. It was difficult to say which had the best of the fight, both being completely covered with blood and apparently much exhausted.

Political Items from Southern Oregon

[From the Roseburg Ensign, April 18.]

Every Union paper in the State, we believe, has interpreted the first resolution of the Copperhead platform to refer directly to the old Kentucky and Virginia resolutions, embodying the doctrine of "State Sove—any," on which the rebellion was founded. As the Cops have not denied it, we must insist that the interpretation is correct and that the regeneration under the supervision of the Prophet Joe Smith is all a sham.

The speaking here yesterday was a complete triumph for Mr. Logan. The nigger seems to be the whole stock in trade of Mr Smith.

There are five or six men living with squaws down on the coast, who vote the Copperhead ticket because they say the Republicans believe in nigger equality and they can't stand amalgamation poor fellows!

The editor of the Albany Democrat says he has lately made a "flying visit" to Corvallis. We dare say the good people of Corvallis thought the "devil was to pay" when he alighted. Wonder if his wings resemble those of a bat?

[From the Jacksonville Sentinel.]

The State Rights Democrat hopes that Grant will be nominated, and says "that soup-tureens will be in [illegible] demand." The last remark is eminently correct, for Democracy will be very sick [illegible] that time.

A public spirited individual, named Langley Hall, has proposed through the Ensign to take the sheriffalty of Douglas county at half price, whereupon a whole souled person of the name of Pumpkin [illegible] advertises that he will perform the duties of sheriff for nothing and depend entirely on stealing for a living. From the vegetable character of name and his confidence in his natural resources, we judge him to be a "peace," or, as styled in this county, a "bed rock" Democrat, and have no doubt he will make the "riffle" if elected.

The Democrat observes that during the sixty years of Democratic power: "No nation was more prosperous than this,—no people more happy,—no government less burdensome." We knew a man once who had enjoyed sixty years of happiness and prosperity,—surrounded by his family,—when all of a sudden he went crazy, and had to be sent to a lunatic asylum, and he has not enjoyed a day's luck since. The Democratic party is pretty much in the same fix, and needs a straight-jacket badly.

GEN. SPINNER AS A RELIGIOUS ENTHUSIAST.—The Treasurer of the United States is the homeliest man on earth—as any one may see by referring to his likeness on the 50 cent currency. When I was introduced to him at breakfast, he smiled—and it broke a saucer. In the course of his remarks he chanced to smile again—and it broke a plate. Out of sympathy for the landlord I checked this calamitous cheerfulness by deftly changing the subject to funerals. But it was another matter I wished to speak of. Now, many people are not aware of it outside of his church, but General Spinner is a devout and sensitively conscientious Methodist in religion, and in politics is a [illegible]. But even the purest of us is not safe from calumny—as I know from my own experience. It [illegible] to be whispered around that under very trying and extraordinary circumstances General Spinner was guilty of swearing a little sometimes. The Church took the matter in hand as quietly as possible, and appointed a discreet [illegible] (the grieving mourner of a husband and three gallant brothers slain in the war) to inquire into the matter. Instead of gathering evidence at [illegible], she went to headquarters, she pushed her way among a crowd of waiting ones in the General's office. The old man was absorbed in business, and working away like a steam engine. File after file of men passed before him and he shot his decision at them in sharp, curt sentences and they moved on. Finally, a tall handsome man approached, and handed in his documents for examination. The General ran his eyes down the pages, and a thunder cloud settled portentously upon his countenance. He threw down the papers and shook his fist fiercely in the gentleman's face and said:

"You dare to come to me with this! You, you ashrinking hound of a deserter! You bring a paper here signed by the President of the United States, setting forth that when you deserted from the regular army to go and fight four years against your country, there were four months' pay coming to you from the Government you so outraged, and ordering me to pay to you those arrearages! I'd see you and the President a hundred million miles in the hottest hole in [illegible] you mangy, lying, traitorous son of a horse thief, and then I won't do it! Vamose the ranch!"

And the mourner of the Union dead went back and [illegible]. She said no, the General didn't [illegible] is, he didn't swear exactly—and yet didn't exactly pray, but the words he said were the next most soothing words to a beautiful prayer that ever she heard in all her life!

MARK TWAIN

"The Rump Congress."

[From the Chicago Tribune, March 21.]

There are a great many Democrats whose notions of constitutional law are regulated by their feelings, their loves and their hates. Among the heterogeneous mass of non reading, but loud swearing, Democrats there is no more popular interpretation of the Constitution than that Congress is an illegal body, which the President ought to disperse by the sword. These men have been taught to repeat, parrot like, that the Constitution says that Congress shall be composed of a Senate and House of Representatives, that each State is entitled to two Senators and to the number of Representatives ascertained by law, and inasmuch as there are ten States which have no Senators or Representatives, the Senate and House are illegally constituted, and of course have no constitutional functions. The country remembers the Copperhead threat of 1866 that in case a sufficient number of Democrats were elected to Congress, they would meet their Southern brethern and declare themselves the Congress. The President yesterday declared to Congress that he had never questioned or doubted the legality of Congress, as possessed of all the constitutional powers of that body.

But more final and conclusive decision was that by the Senate itself yesterday. Mr Garrett Davis offered a resolution denying the legality of the Senate, which resolution was rejected, every Senator present voting against it, except Davis and the other Kentucky Senator. When brought to the question directly, the Copperheads in Congress had to vote that "the Rump" was the Congress contemplated and established by the Constitution.

The reports of poverty in London are terrible. Numerous committees are at work relieving distresses in the city besides the regular officers of the Poor Law Board. One of these subordinate committees reported that in a week it had spent $17 in giving 11,000 persons sixpence apiece. In the Bethnal-green District it is stated that there were about 120,000 persons suffering from poverty.

FROM WALLA WALLA

[From the Statesman, April 17th.]

The Executive Committee, charged with the duty of taking preliminary action in all matters connected with the Railroad are steadily at work, and have now got matters in such a shape as to reduce the building of the road to a certainty. Articles of incorporation have been adopted, and a company organised under the title of the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad Company. The names of Messrs D S Baker, A H Reynolds, I T Reese, A Kyger, J H Lasater, J D Mix, B Scheideman and Wm H Newell, appear as the incorporators. The capital stock of the company is fixed at $300,000, to be increased as the business of the corporation requires. J H Lasater is President of the temporary organization and Wm H Newell, Secretary. Application has been made to Congress for the necessary legislation to enable the company to carry out the objects intended to be obtained. A committee consisting of Messrs J D Mix, A H Reynolds and B Scheideman, has been appointed to confer with the Oregon Steam Navigation Company and ascertain what aid may be expected from that quarter towards building the road. This committee will at once proceed to Portland, and on their return it will be definitely determined when the work on the road will commence. The plan of operations agreed upon is to procure a guarantee from the county of $200,000, and $50 000 from the city.

Mr Kelly, the enterprising expressman, reached this city on Wednesday last, direct from the Kootenai country. From him we obtain the following items of news. The mines this season have proved much better than previous years. Large amounts of gold were being taken out. Hydraulics have been introduced and work to advantage. On Boulder Creek new diggings have been discovered and from all that Mr K could learn before he left, it was thought that this creek would prove very rich. Large numbers of men were going into the mines. Miners and others there at present are represented as doing well and express themselves satisfied with the future prospects of the country. But very little snow fell last winter, and in consequence the roads are in good condition. The steamer Mary Moody is now making regular trips, and nothing prevents persons from going into these mines on the score of bad roads or no transportation.

PROSPECTIVE.—John Hecker, of New York employs some 200 hands in his business. He recently issued a manifesto in favor of President Johnson, in which he said:

"And I hereby declare that I will retain no man in my employ who will support the fanatical party which is now dominant in our councils, that I will have no intercourse whatsoever with any man who will not uphold the President of the United States in this juncture, and in event of impeachment I call upon all citizens whose sentiments accord with my own to make public their views and unite as a Vigilance Committee in their support and resolve never to yield until their constitutional rights are secured."

John is an old line Democrat, and in this he but follows the course of the Southern planters and employers, who turned adrift all men who refused to vote as they dictated. Upon reading Hecker's manifesto J. W. Farmer, a leading business man of New York published a document, in which he said:

"I am worth dollars enough to secure my bread and butter for life, but I will give all to sustain the representatives of the people—I mean the Congress of the United States, and I will not discharge any man or deprive him of his bread and butter, if he happens to differ with me as to how the Government should be conducted, or on any political matter, but I will part with all I have in the world to support life to perpetuate this, our beloved country—the only country in the world where a man can be a man if he chooses to be."

IN ANOTHER LIGHT.—The Jacksonville (Oregon) Sentinel is responsible for the following:

Last week a Conservative Democrat was standing in front of the Express office looking very sad, when a friend of the last stripe approached him. "Hello old boy! what's up?" says the Confederate. "Boo-hoo, boo hoo," whimpered Conservative, wiping his weak looking eyes with his dirty coat sleeve, "didn't you hear that 'Andy' was impeached?" "Why that's nothing," says Confed., "Brick Pomeroy is all right, and you know 'Andy' hung the widow Surratt—the drunken old bloat! Let's take a drink." The afflicted Conservative saw the matter in another light, he gave a convulsive snuffle or two, blew his nose, wiped his eyes again, and the parties adjourned to the El Dorado and swung round the circle.

DISPATCHES.—The New York Tribune complains that nearly all the Associated Press reporters are in hearty sympathy with the Democratic party. The statement is without doubt true to a great extent, says the Chicago Post—the tone of the Associated Press dispatches from the South and East shows it. Two dispatches received on the Pacific coast within a few days go to confirm the statements of the Tribune and Post. We refer to the telegrams giving Wade's Cabinet, and the rumor that Chief Justice Chase was the author of a communication published in the Intelligencer showing that Wade could not act as President. Telegrams from the South frequently bear marks of hands belonging to the "white man's government."—Marysville Appeal.

ANOTHER NEW CITY.—Dale city, like Cheyenne has sprung up as if by magic. Two months ago there were only two houses in the place, and now it contains over a hundred. It stands on the summit of the Black Hills, on the Union Pacific Railroad, and will be the supply depot for timber, wood, rock and coal for its use and for the west. It is located in a valley twenty five miles wide, equalling in richness the best of Illinois prairies. Gold, iron and coal mines have lately been discovered in the vicinity, which will make it a place of permanent importance.

Hon James R Doolittle has determined not to live in Wisconsin any longer than he must to enable him to serve out his present term in the Senate. He was a Republican for a little more than six years, and thereby obtained a seat in the Senate for twelve. As he thinks he must move about to give a chance to the lightning to strike him again he is open to proposals for a new location.

WHAT IT MEANS.—Everybody asks what "S. T.—1860—X." means or signifies.

The Jacksonville Sentinel gives the most satisfactory interpretation we have heard, viz: "Democracy is the S-same T-thing as it was in 1860, X-actly."

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.

Although the fame of this renowned invigorant rests mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders, it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and lightens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from abuse of self into their system. Look at their pallid, [illegible] and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of [illegible] or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation [illegible] and suffer until death closes the scene. Let [illegible] guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering [illegible] any of these horrible life destroying maladies, [illegible] they are cured, for in a brief time it will be too late, [illegible] them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing [illegible] in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and their places. Be therefore careful and [illegible] strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse [illegible] solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, [illegible] by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited [illegible] producing with unerring certainty, the [illegible] of morbid symptoms until [illegible] by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots [illegible] the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, [illegible] the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, [illegible] about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused [illegible] blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of [illegible] flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the [illegible] furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequently insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails at effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give [illegible] Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are under any of these fearful maladies, should not [illegible] sacred responsibility resting upon them, [illegible] obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give [illegible] patient a written instrument, binding himself to [illegible] radical and permanent cure, or make no [illegible]

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT [illegible] by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating [illegible] toms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from [illegible] curiosity, to any part of the country, with full directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and [illegible] who with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the [illegible] Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and [illegible] lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, [illegible] makers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office [illegible] etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory, and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid [illegible] is to make enquiry—it will cost you [illegible] may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not desire [illegible] exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, [illegible] letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who [illegible] call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
